

2017 Cowtown Cleanup Results

On behalf of Keep Fort Worth Beautiful, thank you to all who participated to make this Cowtown Cleanup another fantastic cleanup! Between the litter and storm debris you collected, your efforts left Fort Worth looking more beautiful at the start of Earth Month. Congratulations also to our prize winners! All prizes with the exception of yard carts will be mailed to volunteers or their group contact person by next week for distribution. If your group won yard carts: please contact Cheryl Libby (info included in signature block below) by May 15th with the name and address of the Fort Worth resident who will be receiving the cart so that we can arrange delivery. Please contact Cheryl with any questions.

Each volunteer or group was only eligible to win in one category but may have received prizes from multiple donors based on group size.

Concerts in the Garden

The Fort Worth Symphony Orchestra will be continuing their summer concert series (June 2 – July 8) at the Fort Worth Botanic Garden, and they are looking for volunteers to assist patrons with sorting their recyclable materials. Volunteers will receive free admission for themselves and a guest to the performance, and can earn extra perks for volunteering at 6+ performances. Volunteers must be available to attend mandatory training on May 31 at 6:30pm at the Botanic Garden, and will need to be available from 5:45pm through up to one hour after the concert ends (typically 10-10:30pm) on the night of the performance. Register by May 10th at www.fwsymphony.org/citgecoteam. For questions, please e-mail citgecoteam@fwsymphony.org.
